As an SNET in 1966 this was was my first duty station What a surprise when I landed on the water without knowing that this was going to happen. The CO was a reserve LT. Eichleberger. Lots of parties and drinking back then. Two of our crewmen got married there, some isolation.

Arrived at Cat early in 1954 . The original start-up crew was still there and were about to be replaced. I have a hard time remembering names, but I believe the corpsman was Conlon who had been an orderly on duty at Boston City Hospital the night of the Coconut Grove fire. I remember two of the house boys were Macario Villarone and Theodorico Pena . I relieved a cook named Henry Bishop who had a pet monkey named Ike.Ike was apest and was exiled to Macario's home in Bogomonoc.Boy, didn't it get hot out there and when it rained it was worse.
