I was stationed there from approximately 71 to 72 when LTC Tom Lynch was the CO. Had a blast. Nuthin' but good memories!

I served at Sitkinak Loran Station from September 1970 until July 1971. I worked as a SA paint gallons of paint on the big fuel tanks and around the station. Later when it got cold, I moved over to the shop and became an FN and stood generator watch. When I tired of that I convinced the WO that I really wanted to be an AT, like him, and he moved me over to EW, Loran Watchstander, I was released early for ATA school.

You know, we are a part of a very select group. Over the lifespan of LORSTA Sitkinak there were just over 500 men that served there. That means that more folks have climbed to the top of Mount Everest than have had a chance to climb to the top of the Dome, or visit the crash site of the DC3 up on the mountain or fish for Dolly Varden trout off the end of the spit. Something to think about. Pete
