I am writing a history of Loran-C in Alaska and did not get a chance to visit St. Paul. Does anyone know when the C tower was built? I have seen 1967, but I thought the C signal was being transmitted since 1960. Did they transmit from the A tower initially? Also, does anyone know where the A buildings were/are? Thanks!

I was part of the original crew. I see that the CO, Bob Gardner and a fellow named James Paton left postings several years ago. I would enjoy hearing from them or anyone else who was there. St Paul Loran was my first duty station in the Coast Guard after about 15 months of uninterrupted training. The Coast Guard was good for me. After four years I left to attend the University of Texas where I earned a degree. But the Coast Guard was a special experience. It was an important part of my education. Perhaps the most important part. Jim

I guess there aren't many left from the early 60's who remember how wonderful and quiet it was on St. Paul in the early times. I loved it there as it was quiet and without stress.

Greetings, I was the Electrician (EM3) from 10/76 to 1077. Just found out about a crew member going to the Great Beyond, ET3 (ELC3) Paul Zerbe, 20110303 Topeka, KS. Fair Winds and Smooth Sailing, You Will Be Missed! Does anyone remember the Hangin' Judge or the CG Day pig roast? Was fun. HEY, I need HELP trying to find a crew member from that time, does anybody remember ET3 Izzy? Can't remember his last name or where he went after St. Paul, but I remember he was a good ping pong player! If anyone can help, please get in touch with me at metompkin@hotmail.com, or if you are a crew member back then send me a shout!! It would be alot of help, Thank You, Greg
