Bill Horn, Do you still check this posting? You and I flew in together to PC and spent the same year there. Was interesting to say the least.

My periodic check-in to see who is still out there. Would love to hear from anyone I was stationed with 73-74. I see lots of faces in my mind but the names are blurry.

I enjoyed my time in Port Clarence 12/78 to 1/80. I was the XO/Maint Officer. It was a fun experience, many memories of the escapades of the crew. Knox Rhine

Table - 1980s

Great to see some familiar names on this list. I spent a wonderful year at Port Clarence Aug 81 - Aug 82. Though I wouldn't care to repeat the experience - the isolation and being away from family - I do have fond memories of the place and the great people I was stationed with. It was with some sadness I watched the CG YouTube video of the tower being blown up last year (April 2010). Truly the end of an era. Sad to hear MK1 Sherman 'crossed the bar' he helped a new MKC survive the arctic, and for that I'll always be grateful. I considered him my right-hand-man.

I was SS3/SS2 during 1981/1982. I still remember that beer cost less than soda at the bar. My year in the frozen north sure beat getting seasick in the north atlantic. I was there with ET3 Bob Norris, MK1 Steve Dunn, MK1 Sherman Irving (RIP), MK2 Billy Michael, LTjg Chris Conklin, etc... failing memory of a 50-year old.

I just saw in the latest CHIEF magazine that ETCM David Pouler had died in Jan. He was an ET3 at PC when I was there. I haven't been in contact with him since that time but of course still remember him well. I was shocked to see his name in the 'Crossed the Bar'. Does anyone know what caused his death? I would appreciate anyone's response. Thanks. Per J Lee

I was at KPC from 1983-84 - 364 days, 16 hours, and 44 minutes...but who is counting now? I got the fid and the #1 board, and didn't have to stay any longer. I was there with Tom Taylor, Brad Stein, Steve Massy, Tom Black (The best Spades partner I could ever ask for), Vinnie, DJ the Cook, Red Hodges, T. Roth, Glen the EM1 and Glen the future BMCM and The ET's - T-Bone, Wolf, Lee, and all the rest of the Crew!
